

A LULLABY.

Sleep, little pigeon, and fold your wings,
Little blue pigeon with velvet eyes,
Sleep to the singing of mother bird swinging,
Swinging in the nest where her little one lies.

Away out yonder I see a star,
Silvery star with twinkling song,
To the soft down falling I hear it calling,
Calling and twinkling the night along.

In through a window a moonbeam comes,
Little gold moonbeam with misty wings,
And I am singing, I sing, "Is he sleeping?"
Sleeping and dreaming while mother sings?

Up from the sea there floats the sob
Of the waves that are breaking upon the shore,
As though they are groaning in anguish and
moaning,
Bemoaning the ship that shall come no more.

But sleep, little pigeon, and fold your wings,
Little blue pigeon with misty eyes,
And I am singing, I sing, "Is he sleeping?"
Sleeping and dreaming while mother sings?

Up from the sea there floats the sob
Of the waves that are breaking upon the shore,
As though they are groaning in anguish and
moaning,
Bemoaning the ship that shall come no more.

CRIMINAL WEEK.

Free Fights, Prize Fights, Cutting Fights and Neighbors Quarrels.

The police have had a busy time of it during the past week. The town house has been rushed with transient boarders and Justice Booz is tired and overworked. He has heard of the trials and woes of so many unfortunate individuals lately that he intends to take a vacation this afternoon to see the parade and to recuperate before giving any more sentences.

There have been people locked up in the police station during the past few days for being drunk and impudent, and there have been others who were not visibly drunk, but excessively impudent which for lack of that official information which would justify a record being made in these columns we are bound to ignore.

Notice has been given that a prize fight would take place on Burlington Island on last Friday evening, between Charley Woodington of Bristol and Kid Dickson of Philadelphia. The fight did not materialize. The Burlington police and Bristol's "fines" formally become as quiet as gamblers' hands.
The advertised contest being thus peacefully settled the Burlington police gave a watermelon party, and they and their guests settled down to enjoy the flavor of the luscious fruit.

White matters on the island were thus peaceably disposed of considerably and blood was engendered which eventually came to a head in Bristol. On Saturday night, Charley Woodington met John Baxter and Joe Woodington on Paul street, and demanded the cash for tickets sold to John to witness the fight on the island. Baxter demurred and Woodington threatened his remarks by employing physical means. In the melee Charles got a severe kicking and a deep gash in the arm above the elbow with a razor. A warrant was issued for the arrest of Joseph and John, but the last seen of the pair was on the tow path near Tullytown.

The report of the Chief Engineer of the Fire Department not being signed was returned without further action for signature.
A petition from J. J. Bevan, for privilege to construct an awning in front of his place of business on Mill street was referred to the Street committee with power to act.

A communication from the Fire Companies Convention certifying to the election of Samuel Abbot as Chief Engineer, and John B. Appleton, Assistant, was received and the election approved.

A petition was presented from residents and property holders of Green street asking for a street light upon that street. The matter was referred to the Street committee.
Bills for macadamizing three squares of Cedar street was presented by the Street
committee as follows:

John J. Tyrol, $2,185 00
Edward M. Peirce, 2,250 00
B. M. & J. P. Stanley, 85 cents per square yard.

On motion the contract was authorized to be given to the lowest bidder.
The time of settlement of Collector Rue's delinquent tax was extended one month and the list presented by him for returns was held over for future consideration.

The following bills were passed:

THE REUNION TODAY

Bristol to-day puts on her gala robes.
Everywhere can be seen flags of all sizes, and decorations innumerable. The large arm on Mill street between Cedar and Wood, perhaps attracts the most attention.
Surmounted by flags of all nations, and handsomely decorated with bunting, etc., it has pending from it the smaller arch under which in 1824 General Lafayette passed on his tour from New York to Philadelphia.
Never in the history of the town has there been a more general demonstration. All citizens regardless of party or creed have united in showing their honor and respect for the old heroes of 1861-65, who left their homes and families for the camp and battlefield to fight for their country's cause.

The committees to whom was entrusted the work of preparing for the reception of the veterans and their friends and who have labored so earnestly for its success were appointed at a meeting held on July 15 at the No. 2 Hose House and was composed of the following gentlemen:

Finance committee—Thomas B. Harkins,
George A. Shoemaker, Joseph K. Grundy,
Frank F. Bell, Walter R. Leonard.
Committee and Music—J. Wesley Wright,
Dr. H. Purcell, L. Landreth, John K. Young,
F. G. Edwards.

Invitation and Reception—John C. Stuckert, Wm. A. Dardick, J. K. Wilman, B. J.
Hall and Decorations—W. C. Peirce, B.
C. Foster, C. Appleton, Edw. Spring, Philip Winter.

The Executive committee consisted of the members of all the committees with J. Wesley Wright chairman and John C. Stuckert secretary.

The guests of Bristol arrived about ten o'clock this morning. Some came by train and others by trolley or boat.

The forenoon was occupied by the business meetings of the Survivors' Association of the 104th Pennsylvania Volunteers, at Pythian Hall, on Wood street, and the members of Survivors' Association of Durell Battery at H. Clay Bettey Post rooms in Washington Hall.

At noon a dinner prepared by the Ladies'
Circle of the G. A. R. was served at Pythian Hall to the members of the Associations and of the Grand Army Posts of the county and visitors.

The 104th regiment went into service 1000 strong, and its record of losses, from all causes, footed up 492 non-commissioned officers and men, and 13 commissioned officers were killed or wounded.

The flags bear on them the names of the following battles:—Williamsburg, Bottom's Bridge, Yorktown, Fair Oaks, Fort Wagner, Richmond, Chickamauga, White Oak Swamp,
Siege of Charleston, James Island, John's Island, Carter's Hill and Seven Pines.

Durell's Battery was organized in connection with the 104th and under the same order. On reaching Washington it was transferred to the artillery arm of the service and never rejoined the regiment. It saw hard service and much of it. It participated in Pope's retreat in 1862, and fought at Kelley's Ford, Brimston Station, Second Bull Run and Chancellorsville and later at Antietam, Fredericksburg. In 1863 the battery served in the Southwest, and was with Grant at Vicksburg and Jackson. It rejoined the Army of the Potomac in the spring of 1864,
and participated in the principal battles in the campaign from the Rapidan to Petersburg, where it fought in the trenches until the fall of Richmond, and then took part in the pursuit of the Confederate Army to the surrender of Lee.

Sold by the Sheriff.
Sheriff Aaron on Tuesday sold two houses and lots in Bristol, belonging to Harry Zimmerman and John Fish. The Zimmerman property was purchased by Mrs. Charlotte Shoemaker for $100 and the Fish property by the Bristol Building Association for $100.

H. T. Staake, of Philadelphia, and formerly of Newportville, died on Friday of last week. The deceased leaves a wife and family and a wide circle of friends to mourn his loss. Mr. Staake was the secretary of the Benevolent Building and Saving Fund Association of Newportville since its organization. The funeral was from his former residence in Newportville, on Tuesday. Interment was made in Beechwood cemetery.

Rev. W. C. Hendrickson conducted the services at the Methodist church last Sunday morning, during the absence of Rev. C. H.
Borer, who was assisting his brother at his church in Philadelphia.

their horse carriage drawn by the boys who will be dressed in their new red shirts and dark trousers. The America Hose, Hook and Ladder Company boys will be dressed in red shirts with black trousers and will have their horse carriage in line with them. The band from the Drexel School at Bridgeton of 35 boys, will precede the Grand Army of the Republic, the City Band and the Bristol Cornet Band have also been engaged to furnish music for the parade and will be placed in line where they will be most needed.

The parade will move down Wood street,
to Mill street, to Bath, to Millin, to Swain,
to Otter, to Mill, to Radcliffe, to Dorrance, to Wood, and will break ranks at the rink field where the speeches will be made.

After the parade No. 1 Fire Company will give a substantial lunch to America Hose sheds on Mill street.

At three o'clock the old soldiers and all their friends will assemble at the rink. The building has been handsomely decorated for the occasion with bunting, flags, and appropriate emblems. Notwithstanding the size of the building it is probable that many who would like to be present will be unable to obtain admittance.

Patriotic addresses will be made by the Hon. Harman Yerkes, Hon. B. J. Gilkeson, Rev. C. H. Borer, General Russling, and others.

At the conclusion of the addresses the programme will be finished and the visitors will one and all enjoy the remainder of the day as their individual tastes and inclinations may direct.

104th Pa. Volunteers and Durell Battery.
The 104th Pennsylvania regiment was organized at Pottsville in September, 1861, by W. W. H. Davis, by order from the War Department, and on November 8, joined the Army of the Potomac at Washington.

Here it spent the winter. In March, 1862, it took the field with that army and served through the campaign on the Peninsula, participating in the siege of Yorktown, the battles of Williamsburg, Savage Station, Fair Oaks, and Malvern Hill; and in the flank march to Harrison's Landing, the regiment formed part of the rear guard, the post of honor. The 104th fired the first volley at Fair Oaks, and opened the battles around Richmond.

In December, 1862, the regiment was sent south and after serving for a time in North Carolina, was ordered to South Carolina to assist in the siege of Charleston, one of the most remarkable in history. These operations, occupying eight months, were of the most arduous and dangerous character, on land and water, and which the 104th bore a conspicuous part, and for several months were under the fire of the enemy's guns. Among other duties, during these memorable operations, the regiment was one of those detailed to make the last assault on Fort Wagner, the key to the enemy's position on Morris Island.

During this service, in addition to the siege operations proper, the regiment participated in the battle on James Island, in July, 1863, and that on John's Island in July, 1864. Later in the season the regiment, with other forces, was sent to Florida, and after the purpose of that expedition had been accomplished it returned to South Carolina

REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.
FOR STATE TREASURER,
JAMES H. HICOM, of Westmoreland county.
FOR AUDITOR GENERAL,
LEVI G. MCGILLIVRAY, of Chester county.

THE TOURIST AND THE TARIFF.
Under the new tariff law travelers coming from abroad to the United States will have more trouble and more trials to their temper than they had before the act went into operation. The main provisions of the law with regard to American tourists are the following, as explained by Secretary Clegg's circular:

Residents of the United States returning from abroad may bring with them into this country from duty the wearing apparel and other personal effects they took away, no matter what those cost. But if they buy such articles in foreign lands, and bring these articles with them, they must pay duty on all of the value of over $100. That is to say, you can bring in with you foreign bought clothes worth $100. All articles of value above that amount you must pay duty on, even though they be personal effects and things to wear. The home bought garments should have marks on them by which they can be readily identified.

The term "American residents returning from abroad" has been narrowed down by strict definition in the new tariff regulations. An American resident abroad is a person who has been traveling from place to place in foreign lands and has had meantime no fixed abode. But if a lady should go to Paris or Berlin with her daughters to polish them off by a foreign education of a year or two and take a house away from home or live for a steady thing in a lodging house or hotel, as so many Americans do, she and her children "returning from abroad" has been defined as a person who has been traveling from place to place in foreign lands and has had meantime no fixed abode. Under the circumstances it will be hard to get around the law. Some people make it a point to wear all their new clothes on the other side before they start home. Then the garments can be valued only as secondhand and partly worn out articles.

The harmony of the two leading political parties of Greater New York is not so called over by the harmony of the European powers. The Citizens Union organized itself to the slogan of good government and reform. It nominated Seth Low, president of Columbia university and former mayor of Brooklyn, for mayor of Greater New York, and he accepted. The Citizens' Union is irreverently called the "Cits" by its enemies. The Cits wanted the regular Republicans to come to them and vote for Mr. Low, but the Cits would not advance one peg toward meeting the Republicans. They simply held out their arms; that was all. They had nominated Low strictly on the platform that national politics has nothing to do with municipal affairs. The regular Republican leaders refused to admit this, so there is no union, and the Republicans nominate a second candidate. On the opposite side of the line there is Tammany. It will nominate the famous Richard Croker or somebody he wants. Tammany adheres to Bryan Democracy, but here, too, are sorrow and gnashing of teeth and division. A Democratic contingent, how large is not yet apparent, declares it will not yet appear. The air of Greater New York is full of music.

The Cuban presidential election was held very quietly, as indicted voters who cast their ballots under the shadows of an enemy's guns and with their lives in their hands. Very little information has as yet got through the insurgent lines in regard to the new president, Bartolome Mas. Naturally he is a soldier and a general. He fought in the great ten years' war of Cuba for freedom 30 years ago and was one of the first to take up arms again in the present struggle.

Bryan says silver and wheat have after all these years ceased to go up and down in price together because the law of supply and demand regulates both. Hereafter they have marched measurably together because of the even demand for them, but now silver is not wanted greatly, while wheat is needed very much in the world's markets. Consequently wheat advanced, while silver went back in price.

The Yukon river is open to navigation four months in the year, from the latter part of June to the latter part of October. After arrangements are perfected no doubt it will be traversable by sleighs throughout its whole length in winter.

Some Important Facts.
Hon. John B. Proctor in the Forum forth some bold facts in regard to Hawaii and our Pacific and Asiatic outlook that it will be well for the American people to become acquainted with and remember.

There are at this moment a terrific rivalry and race among the nations of Europe to gain new territory in the south Pacific and everywhere else. If the United States does not accept the gift of Hawaii, it is not possible for this much coveted prize to remain an independent government.

The United States has now a Pacific coast line, even leaving out that of Alaska, 2,000 miles long. The Alaskan coast is of itself longer than "our Atlantic, Gulf and Pacific coasts combined." The powers of Europe that are reaching out to the east of Asia and the islands of the south Pacific are doing it with ever increasing navies and armaments. If any difficulty should arise between one of these and the United States, we should need swift cruisers and convenient coaling stations to cope with the situation. We have no war vessels capable of crossing the Pacific and returning without stopping to coal. A convenient coaling station will mean that a war vessel may double her speed without the certainty that she will exhaust her fuel supply before it can be replenished. If we are ever to have swift merchantmen on the Pacific, we shall need repair docks and abundant coaling facilities even more than those we have at present.

The acquisition of Hawaii by the United States and the fitting up of Pearl Harbor as a complete naval station are therefore vital to our future prosperity and independence.

About Living Pictures.
A new notion is a series of so called living pictures illustrating the rapid and not inviting progress down hill to the black pool of destruction of a fellow who starts out as a simple bad boy on general principles. There is a series of stereoscopic views of a rugged and dirty chap rushing the growler, of an opium joint and of a convict behind bars and finally a man who has been saved through the instrumentality of the church and good people. In brief, it is the stages traveled by one who, as somebody expressed it, is "shooting the shoots to hell."

We seriously question whether this is the best way to reform wicked people. Realistic but frightful stories. Those stories have been condemned for and after by good people as tending more to attract people into the road to vice than to reform them.

The experience of mankind proves that the wicked can never be made permanently good by scaring them. The true method is always to set before them the attractiveness of good rather than the deformity of evil. The sight of an opium joint in a stereoscopic view will naturally arouse in the breast of an adventurous youth a desire to find out what the real thing is like. The only sure way to reform evil-doers is to capture them young, before they get very bad, and set their feet in the right way, making good citizens of them. Living pictures showing how this can be done and has been done would be more to the purpose.

The progress of sanitary science in this country is clearly shown in the small amount of attention attracted by the announcement that yellow fever prevails at Ocean Springs, Miss. A generation ago this would have been the signal for a general alarm throughout the south. Now, however, the state boards of health of Mississippi, Alabama and Louisiana unite in a proclamation that yellow fever exists at Ocean Springs and inform the public that a quarantine against that place has been established. Every sanitary precaution will meanwhile be taken to confine the disease and stamp it out.

The leader of the tribes that are fighting England on the Afghanistan border is known commonly as the "mad mullah." He is a religious fanatic and gets and keeps his hold on the tribesmen by making them believe they are fighting a divinely ordained war to destroy the infidel British. To his military prowess and religious fanaticism he adds also the tricks of the mesmerist and juggler. He mesmerizes his followers and makes them see visions of British soldiers fleeing and falling before victorious Muslims and tribesmen. Then the ignorant follows go in at his command and fight like Turks.

Inventors should set their brains to work to devise a quicker way of thawing out the gold bearing gravel of the Klondike than by the present slow process of building fires over it and letting them burn down through the dirt being dug out as fast as it thaws. Blasting with dynamite has been tried unsuccessfully. Perhaps petroleum will be found plentiful in Alaska and the crude oil can be utilized to melt the earth.

The horse market appears to have got down tolerably low in Chicago. There is a sale stable where what are called "seconds" in horseflesh are sold as cheap as $3 apiece. What a $3 horse is good for is hard to tell.

There's a price charm, too, for orders were all laid before raw stuffs took their price jump, and the goods got here before the advance in price took their effect.

Black Dress Goods.
Two foreign weavers have made a reputation as black goods makers that beats the achievement of any conjurer of textile colorings. The new black stuffs are ready. Sombre? Let's say "rich"—that better classifies this mono-color dress goods elegance.

There are inexpensive black goods, too—50c, and down, and up—but only poor black goods are dear, with fairness in the pricing of the worthy sorts.

By the way, Corset duties have been advanced. We shall need to charge more for the Lillian corsets after this month—or whenever the next lots come through. You can buy cheaper now than we can next time.

Boys Fall Suits.
HOW bright and fresh they look—just cracked from their shells! Spic and span new suits for the boys. Some smart styles are here, soon to be gone—not to come again at prices free from tariff advances. Waiting pays at times—not now.

At $3—First lot went quick—more ready now, much for little, surely. Navy blue cheviot. Some with double breasted jackets; some in fancy chevrons; navy blue cheviot sailor suits, trimmed in white and black and red and black. "Blue and brown" fabrics—made up this way—
Sailor Suits for 3 to 12 years.
Boy's Suits for 8 to 12 years.
At $1.50—Navy blue Suits of unfinished worsted cheviot—lined with serge would be worth a dollar more, ordinarily—these have fine satin body lining, finely tailored right through. Only a hundred of them—more the pity.
At $1.50, $2.50, $3.00—Handsome Scotch and English chevrons with a rich, dressy sheen in practically exclusive patterns—just a few of each—fresh and crisp from the tailors. Proud enough for the dressiest fellows. We'll have to ask more next time.

—A business man is not the most patient creature in the world. He cannot wait to hear any long-drawn-out story of the cause of his ailment. He desires to know the nature of the disease, how long he should expect to live, and if he can be cured, write out a prescription and send in your bill. So, here's the first part of the prescription.
Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a make the world and the results of pleur and quartz mining are fully equal to the finds of nuggets in the early California days and extraordinary inducements are being offered to prospectors, practical miners and investors. By next spring the gold fever will have taken possession of thousands of people, and the Western roads will have all they can do to transport the fortune hunters.

PLAIDS are pre-eminently dress suitable for the child's frocks, and now Fashion stamps them as a corset for young women—for entire gowns—not the bright-colored plaids, but the blues and greens combined. We show thirteen styles of these blues and greens, 48 in., $1.25.

Black Dress Goods.
Two foreign weavers have made a reputation as black goods makers that beats the achievement of any conjurer of textile colorings. The new black stuffs are ready. Sombre? Let's say "rich"—that better classifies this mono-color dress goods elegance.

There are inexpensive black goods, too—50c, and down, and up—but only poor black goods are dear, with fairness in the pricing of the worthy sorts.

Come and see these newest things—
46 in. Silk and wool Mohr Poplins, $2.
45 in. Silk and wool Epingle, $2.
46 in. Silk and wool Poplin Repp, $2.
$2.50, $3.
45 in. Silk and wool Brocade Corday, $3 and $3.50.
45 in. Silk and wool Basket Bayadere, $2.50.
45 in. Silk Plaid Wick Weave, $3.40.
45 in. Ribbon Striped Bayadere, $4.
46 in. Silk Striped Brilliant, $1.75.
46 in. Mohair Brocade Nette, $2.

Lillian CORSET perfection. That means much—graceful shape, comfort, good wear, fair price. No guess work about them. The Old World's best corset maker produces them for us—all on the basic principle that makes the corset best, but varied into a dozen models to suit all figures. $1 to $7.

By the way, Corset duties have been advanced. We shall need to charge more for the Lillian corsets after this month—or whenever the next lots come through. You can buy cheaper now than we can next time.

Boys Fall Suits.
HOW bright and fresh they look—just cracked from their shells! Spic and span new suits for the boys. Some smart styles are here, soon to be gone—not to come again at prices free from tariff advances. Waiting pays at times—not now.

At $3—First lot went quick—more ready now, much for little, surely. Navy blue cheviot. Some with double breasted jackets; some in fancy chevrons; navy blue cheviot sailor suits, trimmed in white and black and red and black. "Blue and brown" fabrics—made up this way—
Sailor Suits for 3 to 12 years.
Boy's Suits for 8 to 12 years.
At $1.50—Navy blue Suits of unfinished worsted cheviot—lined with serge would be worth a dollar more, ordinarily—these have fine satin body lining, finely tailored right through. Only a hundred of them—more the pity.
At $1.50, $2.50, $3.00—Handsome Scotch and English chevrons with a rich, dressy sheen in practically exclusive patterns—just a few of each—fresh and crisp from the tailors. Proud enough for the dressiest fellows. We'll have to ask more next time.

John Wanamaker.
—A business man is not the most patient creature in the world. He cannot wait to hear any long-drawn-out story of the cause of his ailment. He desires to know the nature of the disease, how long he should expect to live, and if he can be cured, write out a prescription and send in your bill. So, here's the first part of the prescription.
Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a make the world and the results of pleur and quartz mining are fully equal to the finds of nuggets in the early California days and extraordinary inducements are being offered to prospectors, practical miners and investors. By next spring the gold fever will have taken possession of thousands of people, and the Western roads will have all they can do to transport the fortune hunters.
The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway, and its connecting lines, offer the best facilities for reaching the Alaska gold regions.

Don't think that your liver needs treating if you are bilious. It doesn't. It's your stomach. That is, your stomach is really what causes the biliousness. It has put your liver out of order.
See what the matter with your stomach. Sick stomach, poor liver and then there's trouble. Slaker Digestive Cures stomach and cleans the liver and the bowels. It's the only medicine that does it so effectively.
Any real case of indigestion and biliousness can be cured with a few bottles of Slaker Digestive Cures. Try it.
Sold by druggists, price 10 cents to $1.00 per bottle.

Messrs. Ely Bros.—The Balm reached me safely and in no short time the effect is surprising. My son says the first application gave decided relief. I have a shell filled with "Catachra Cures." To-morrow the stove shall receive them and Ely's Cream Balm will reign supreme. Respectfully,
Mrs. FRANKLIN FRENCH.
